

Social-Emotional Development Success Series

Who Should Attend?

Preschool Owners
 Preschool Directors
 Curriculum Directors

Session Length 3 hours

All 50 states have either developed written preschool standards or are in the process of establishing these documents. These standards, in most cases, focus on academic content areas such as English-language arts, English-language development and mathematics. In addition to aligning with state kindergarten academic standards, many states recommend complementing the content areas with attention to social emotional development. PWI has created a series of intuitive trainings, training tools, and support materials for teachers, parents, and caregivers. These are easy to understand and help promote Social-Emotional Development in children; now considered a key contributor to success in school and LifeLong success. These lessons feature characters children love, called Sparkimurs.
